HENDERSON TO GERMANY WITH STRONG WARNING

Might Not Be Able To Stay Aloof If Open
Conflict Breaks

VIEW SHARED BY
FRENCH LEADERS

Believed To Carry A Personal Message To
Adolf Hitler

By The Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 31.—Britain's ambassador to Germany left by plane for Berlin today armed with what informed persons said
was authority to warn Germany
anew in vigorous terms Britain
might not be able to remain aloof
if war came in central Europe.

The envoy, Sir Neville Henderson,
was expected to see Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop
immediately. Diplomatic quarters
there believed he was bringing
a personal message to Reichsfuehrer
Hitler from Prime Minister Chamberlain.

Persons close to the British government said Henderson was authorized to reiterate privately
to Hitler the warning voiced at Lanark Saturday by Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer—
in substance that Britain
might not be able to remain aloof
if the German-Czechoslovak crisis
over the Sudeten Germans
leads to open conflict.

Henderson was said to be empowered to say to Germany's leaders that the British government was convinced:

First, France cannot easily
evade her obligations to aid
Czechoslovakia against aggression.

Second, if France is involved in war with Germany Britain can not afford to let her be beaten.

This warning was not known to have been sent directly to President Benes of Czechoslovakia.
Reichsfuehrer Hitler or Konrad Henlein, the Sudeten German chieftain.

French Share View
Assurance the French government shared this view was understood to have been given by Charles Corbin, the French ambassador.

Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador, conferred with Halifax to supplement information on the central European crisis
he obtained yesterday in a talk with Chamberlain and Ambassador Henderson.

Another caller on Halifax was Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovakia's
minister.

Britain maintained close contact with the trouble center
through a ring of her own unidentified observers scattered through hilly Bohemia to report
and interpret developments in that seething home of the Sude-
ten Germans.

Charge Menace To Peace
PARIS, Aug. 31.—(P)—The chief
labor organizations of the Paris
region declared today Germany
"is menacing the peace of the world," but called upon its members to refuse to accept the cabinet's decree to increase working hours in the interest of national defense.

This action came as the powerful French army commission was called to meet with Premier Edouard Daladier to weigh the possible effects of Germany's army
mobilization program.

The organization—the union
of workers' syndicates of the Paris region—declared the cabinet's decree, adopted yesterday, was
"illegal" and called for a public
protest meeting to be held in Paris Friday.

"The union calls on the workers of the Paris region to refuse to accept this illegality and defend with all their strength the 40-hour week which they (the cabinet) wish to torpedo," the announcement said.

The union asked the general
confederation of labor—the central union organization of France
—to join in a protest which
"would be extended throughout France in the form of a national day of defense for the 40-hour
week and social laws" inaugurated
by the People's Front.

While Daladier made arrangements to tell the members of the chamber of deputies army commission of the dangers confronting France from possible German intervention in Czechoslovakia,
Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet
kept in clo. contact with London on the international situation.

VIOLATOR OF FISH LAW GOES TO JAIL

James T. Kibler, arrested by William W. Marshall, conservation officer for catching game
fish for sale, appeared before Justice of the Peace W. H. Leslie, and pleaded guilty. He was fined $10 for the first fish and $1 each for every other fish in his possession making a total fine
of $24 and costs.

Kibler, unable to pay, was committed to the county jail.

TELLS LIONS CLUB OF REUNION AT GETTYSBURG, PA.

Miss Rebekah Schaeffer
In an Account of
"Vets" Reunion

The story of the reunion of the Confederate and Union soldiers at Gettysburg, Pa., recently,
was related most interestingly by Miss Rebekah Schaeffer, at a noon luncheon of the Lions club
at Hotel St. Francis today.

Miss Schaeffer was designated as the attendant to accompany
her father, Charles Schaeffer, 94,
to the reunion, and both enjoyed
every minute of the trip.

The speaker told of the many soldiers present, the feeling that existed between them long forgotten, but every detail of the Gettysburg battle clear in their minds. The average age of the soldiers was 93 years old, ranging from the youngest 88 years and the oldest 112. She spoke of their many styles of hair cut,
some even wearing their hair in long curls, some were clean
shaven, some with long beards.

Very unusual too, she said, was the fact, that even at their advanced age, and with the activities they were engaged in,
there was not one death during
the official days of the union.

She said she had been told by a friend there that one undertaker at Gettysburg had ordered a supply of three hundred caskets, believing there would be an emergency during the reunion, but there was none.

Presented Water Set.
Her father, she said, was very happy to meet a friend from his former home, Columbus, Ohio, a man 93 years of age, who had lived in one house in Columbus
92 years. This friend recalled
Mr. Schaeffer being presented with a silver water set by the Riflemen of that city, which water set, Miss Schaeffer said,
is still a prized possession in their home.

Miss Schaeffer was preceded
on the program by Miss Hazel
Palmer, president of the Sedalia
Business and Professional Women's club, who gave a talk on her club's activities, and its program for the coming year.

Dan Robinson, program chairman, presented both Miss Schaeffer and Miss Palmer.

Jack Jolly presided over the club's business session.

The board of directors announced the club will support
Miss Patricia Poundstone, contestant in Kansas City's Jubelista contest and will put forth every effort to have this Sedalia girl
one of the leaders.

EXHIBIT APPAREL OF DR. LAMANCE IN PRELIMINARY

Torn Garments Offered
By Sheriff At Laclede

TELLS OF FINDING
BODY IN CELLAR

Remark Attributed To Doctor Wife "Has
A Boy Friend"

By The Associated Press.
LACLEDE, Mo., Aug. 31.—A remark by Dr. William LaMance
the same night his pretty wife's body was found in their fruit cellar that "she has a boy friend in Kansas City" was attributed to the osteopath by a state witness
today at his preliminary hearing
on a murder charge.

The state, contending the former Centre college athlete, killed
his wife, Ella, 29, during a quarrel August 9, introducing the testimony through tall Sheriff Max Brown, who brought into the court torn and dark-spotted clothing which he said Dr. La-Mance had worn on that date.

The night of August 15, three days after another state witness said he found the body in the cellar but "kept my mouth shut"
because of the way "Doc looked at me," Sheriff Brown said the osteopath came to his office and reported his wife was missing.

The sheriff testified Dr. La-Mance remarked as Brown was ready to go to the LaMance home, that Mrs. LaMance "has a boy friend in Kansas City and might be there."

Sheriff Brown said the osteo-
path suggested he question Mrs.
Nell Savage, a friend of his wife,
and try to learn if Mrs. LaMance
had "left him."

Soon Found Body
Sheriff Brown and other state
witnesses said the osteopath remained in a chair in the front room of his house while the search was made which terminated quickly at the fruit cellar
behind the house.

Yesterday Irwin (Doc) Har-baugh, who was seen frequently in Dr. LaMance's company between Aug. 10 and Aug. 15, said
Dr. LaMance suggested he look in the cellar. Harbaugh said he did and turned to Dr. LaMance, standing nearby, intending to tell
of the grim discovery but changed his mind because he was afraid, "I might get my head knocked off."

Today Mrs. Savage, present in the house the night the body was found, said Dr. LaMance remarked upon being told of his wife's dead body in the cellar, "I had Doc Harbaugh look in there and Doc said she was not in there."

Sets Up Another Stage
Directly in front of the old opera house stage, where more than 300 townspeople who once came to see melodramas, came today to see a drama from real life, Sheriff Brown today set up another stage.

He utilized a bridge table upon which to place a mattress he said he took off the studio
couch at the LaMance home the night the body was found. Two dark spots were visible on it.

He also displayed a shirt, torn in two pieces and spotted, and a pair of trousers, torn down the crotch, which he said Dr. La-Mance had informed him he was wearing when he returned from a fishing trip Aug. 9. That is the night the state contends Mrs. La-Mance was slain during an alleged quarrel over his drinking.

Vane Thurlo, defense counsel, objected heatedly to acceptance of the state exhibits, bringing out that for a week they were out of the possession of the sheriff
and in the hands of a state highway patrolman making blood
tests. Prosecutor G. Derk Green rejected a defense demand the highway patrolman be brought in with his analysis.

Asked to describe Mrs. La-
Mance's features when found,
Sheriff Brown said her nose did not appear to protrude far beyond the face and "there was a ridge on her neck of a different color than the rest of her body."

"Did Mr. LaMance tell you of attempts by Mrs. LaMance to commit suicide," said Thurlo.
The defense contends the former nurse probably took poison.
"Yes," replied Sheriff Brown.
"He told me that once before they were married she left a hospital in Kansas City where she was a training and went to her home in Kansas where she tried to take poison."

Today, Mrs. Savage, friend of Mrs. LaMance, said Harbaugh came to her house and "asked if I had seen Ella."
The time she gave for his visit
was Friday afternoon, the same day he saw Mrs. LaMance's body
in the cellar.

TYPHOON STRIKES THE TOKYO AREA

By The Associated Press.
TOKYO, Sept. 1.—(Thursday)
—A 75-mile-an-hour typhoon struck the Tokyo area early today, paralyzing communications
and wrecking and inundating
hundreds of homes.

Yokohama, seaport 18 miles
from Tokyo, was thrown into darkness as the gale snapped the wires and poles. Omori, one of Tokyo's outlying wards, reported
several hundred homes blown down or flooded. A downpour accompanied the high wind.

Disruption of communications blocked attempts at trustworthy
estimates of casualties or damage
for the time being.

SEES LITTLE LIKELIHOOD OF STEEL WAGE CUT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—
Philip Murray, CIO vice chairman, told President Roosevelt today there appeared little likelihood of a general wage reduction in the steel industry in the next few months.

AYLWARD AGAIN LINED UP TO BE PARTY CHAIRMAN

Intra-Party Squabble In District Meetings Only
Around Edges

By The Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 31.—
The reelection of James P. Aylward as chairman of the Missouri Democratic committee and Bar-ak T. Mattingly as head of the state Republican committee appeared certain today following the peaceful congressional meetings
throughout the state.

The way was cleared for the reelection of Aylward—choice
of Senator Bennett Champ Clark
—when he was named a state
committeeman from the Fourth district. Aylward, who also is Democratic national committeeman from Missouri, lives at Kansas City.

Rumblings that opponents of the T. J. Pendergast faction would carry on the intra-party
squabble which split Democrats in the primary by attempting to oust Aylward cropped up only around the edges yesterday. His candidacy was endorsed at some of the outstate gatherings. Other groups moved swiftly to bury the axe and forget the bitter party differences.

One of the noticeable jobs of "mending" was in the Sixth district where supporters of both Judge James M. Douglas and Judge James V. Billings in the intense primary supreme court
fight met in harmonious session.
The selections included Sam
Wear, a colonel on the staff of Governor Lloyd C. Stark, and Mrs. Floyd Sperry, wife of Billings' campaign manager.

There has been no opposition to Mattingly, who was returned to the state committee by eleventh district (St. Louis) Republicans.

President Forecast Smith Victory

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—(P)—
White house aides said today
President Roosevelt predicted
yesterday Senator E. D. Smith of South Carolina would win the Democratic senatorial nomination
by 40,000 votes.

Mr. Roosevelt had this comment to make on Smith's success:
"It is often true that it takes a long, long time to bring the past up to the present."

The brief quotation was relayed
to reporters through Stephen
Early, presidential secretary.

Early said when he and Marvin McIntyre, another secretary,
had consulted the president this morning, the executive, with a smile, had reached into a drawer
of a side table and pulled out an envelope with his prediction of the outcome of the South Carolina race.

Early said the president wrote
out the forecast yesterday and gave Smith a 40,000 majority.
"With a sort of a twinkle in his eye," Early asserted, "he said
it wasn't going to be quite 40-000."

Mr. Roosevelt had made it plain he preferred the nomination of Governor Olin D. Johnston, who had pledged support to the New Deal, over Smith, who had voted against some administration measures.

SENTENCE RICHETTI TO DIE OCTOBER 7

By The Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Aug. 31.—
Adam Richetti, under death sentence for complicity in the union station massacre here in June 1933, was re-sentenced early this afternoon by Circuit Judge Ray G. Cowan to die in the state's lethal gas chamber in Jefferson City October 7.

"There ain't no reason for me
to die," Richetti told the court.
His eyes wandered to a calendar.
"I ain't guilty of nothin."

Those were the only words of the closely guarded convict in the brief court session.

The state supreme court's mandate affirming the death penalty
for Richetti was received by the circuit court here today. Court officials said Richetti would be taken to Jefferson City probably September 2 or 3.

The re-sentence was necessitated by legal change in the state's method of execution.
When the former companion of the late Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd first was sentenced for participation in the union station
slayings condemned felons were hanged.

The state General Assembly
later changed the method of dealing legal death to execution
by gas.

Judge Cowan ordered a sanity
hearing of the gangster by three physicians. The judge said the results of the examination would be binding on no one and that it was ordered as a "courtesy"
to Ralph S. Latschaw, court-appointed attorney for Richetti.

REJECT PROTEST OF U. S. OVER AN ATTACK ON PLANE

Japanese Contend Gunning Ceased When It
Was Identified

TOKYO, Aug. 31.—The Japanese government tonight rejected
on all counts the protest of the United States against the destruction of a Chinese-American airliner near Canton, South China,
by Japanese warplanes on Aug. 24.

The Japanese reply to the protest delivered Aug. 26 by Ambassador Joseph C. Grew admitted, however, the attack of Japanese planes continued after the airliner
had alighted on a small river between Canton and Macao.

Fourteen persons aboard the plane, all Chinese, are believed to have been killed, either by Japanese bullets or by drowning. The only American aboard, Pilot H. L.
Woods of Winfield, Kas., escaped injury and two Chinese survived,
one wounded.

(The American note registered
"emphatic protest" against "the jeopardizing in this way of the lives of Americans as well as other non-combatant occupants of unarmed civilian planes" and also pointed out the destroyed airliner
was the property of the China National Aviation Corporation, in which "Pan American Airways
has a very substantial interest.")

The foreign office spokesman said Japan was compelled to reject the protest because Tokyo's
information differed from that apparently reaching the American authorities.

(The American version was drawn chiefly from Pilot Woods,
who reported that five Japanese planes attacked his plane while it was en route from Hongkong to Chungking, machine-gunned it in the air, compelling him to set it down on the river, and continued
the machine-gunning after the plane had alighted.)

"I can say positively that the machine-gunning ended as soon as the plane's identity was established," the foreign office spokesman asserted. He did not say, however,
when the identification was made.

PENSION PLAN TO APPEAR ON BALLOT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—(P)—
California's proposed $30-a-week
pension plan weathered one legal attack by its opponents in the state supreme court today, and won the right to go to a vote of the people in November.

The plan calls for pensions for unemployed persons more than 50 years old.

Two taxpayers had challenged
the right of the proposal to appear as an initiative measure on the November ballot.

POSSIBLE DEFEAT FOR A MARKETING AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—(P)—
The Agricultural adjustment administration said today virtually complete returns from a grower
referendum showed "possible defeat" for a marketing agreement program designed to prohibit interstate shipment of low grade

SMITH CRUSHES NEW DEAL EFFORT TO DEFEAT HIM

Veteran Senator Wins
In South Carolina
Primary Tuesday

McADOO TRAILS
IN CALIFORNIA

Administration Backed
Candidates In Short
Ends of Ballots

By The Associated Press.
Senatorial candidates with the personal backing of President Roosevelt were on the short ends
of Democratic primary returns
today from South Carolina and California.

Ellison D. Smith crushed Mr.
Roosevelt's first effort to unseat
a Democratic senator by winning renomination in South Carolina.
With returns 90 per cent complete, the veteran of 30 years service held a margin of more than 27,000 votes over the new deal entry, Gov. Olin D. Johnston.

Despite repeated presidential
aid, Senator William Gibbs Mc-Adoo was more than 30,000 votes
behind Sheridan Downey, who made a novel pension plan an issue. Downey had 153,569 votes to 119,417 for McAdoo with 6-211 of the 12,438 precincts tabulated.

Fought Court Bill.
Senator Smith was the fourth
foe of the Roosevelt court bill
to win renomination this summer. The victory was heartening to supporters of Senators George of Georgia and Tydings
of Maryland, for whose defeat
Mr. Roosevelt has appealed.

In California, there was no
new deal issue between Downey
and McAdoo, 74-year-old former secretary of the treasury. Both expressed support of the President's program, although some of their trailing opponents had indicated varying degrees of opposition.

McAdoo, however, had voiced outspoken criticism of Downey's pension proposal. So had the President. The scheme provides that all unemployed persons in the state over 50 years old would receive $30 a week in scrip. This could be used to pay taxes or buy goods from any merchants
who would accept it.

Governor Johnston's defeat by Senator Smith apparently brought no change in Mr. Roosevelt's "purge" program. The President will go into Maryland next Sunday and Monday to campaign for Rep. David J. Lewis against Tydings. He said yesterday he did not expect to speak in New York City against Rep. John O'Connor, whose defeat he has advocated.

EXPLANATION BY ROAD ASSOCIATION

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 31.—
(P)—The Citizens' Road Association said today the Missouri
Farmers' Association apparently acted through a misunderstanding
when it resolved to oppose the Road Association's ten-year highway plan in November.

The Farmers' Association
claimed the plan set aside only five per cent of the revenue from a proposed gasoline tax increase for rural roads and objected because the legislature would have no control over the tax for 10 years.

The Road Association said today the farm group "either mis-understands the proposed new ten-year road program or has it confused with another proposition on the ballot for the November election which is purely a gas tax increase measure."

"The proposed ten-year road
plan allots 20 per cent of highway funds to the supplementary
system, or farm-to-market roads;
50 per cent to the state trunk system, all in rural areas, and 10 per cent as an emergency fund
to be spent on the supplementary system and the trunk system at the discretion of the highway commission," the statement said.

pany building. Discussion of various matters of interest to possibility of the formation of a

Due Heart Attack

Mrs. Mary Jane Sutton, widow of the late Dr. Frank L. Sutton, was found dead in her bed at the family home, 1204 North Grand avenue, about 6 o'clock this morning by her sister, Miss Hattie

her for breakfast. Mrs. Sutton
had been dead several hours.
The cause of her passing was a heart attack.

Although Mrs. Sutton appeared in the best of health she had suffered several attacks before.

For more than twenty-five years
she had been a teacher in the public schools of Sedalia and spent the greater part of her teaching career in the old Prospect school
and then in Mark Twain school
after it had been constructed in the place of Prospect school. She was a primary teacher and taught
the fourth grade.

Mrs. Sutton taught her class as program of the State Health Department to improve sanitary conditions in the state, merits the approval of every citizen. Under the administration of State Health Commissioner Harry F. Parker field workers are getting something done in a state-wide cleanup.

STATE FAIR SANITATION

Noteworthy the past week was the visible progress made in better sanitary conditions at the Missouri State Fair in Sedalia. There is difficulty in supervising food and drink stands all hours of the day and evening, and if there was any cheating by doctored meat, careless handling of milk and unprotected food products it was kept to the minimum. All of which is in the interest of the fair visitor—the tax payer who foots the bill.

The sanitary drinking fountains were quite an innovation to those who remember the tin cup on a chain era.

WELCOME PARTIES — MIRRORS OF A NATION

You can get an idea of the kind of world Europe has built for itself these days by noticing just what it is that nations show to visiting dignitaries when they want to make an impression.

Admiral Horthy visits Germany, and what does he see? Miles of warships, fleets of airplanes, long ranks of soldiers; the might of war, ready to swing into action at the nod of a dictator's head. Having seen, he is duly impressed; no one else, apparently, had anything quite as fearsome to show him. And it is just possible that the future history of Europe may—in part, at least—swing on the impression which these warlike little playthings made on the boss of Hungary.

To say all of that is simply to say that Europe today is a mad world, in which the best energies and the most earnest thinking of the leaders of all the great nations are devoted to that one subject—war.

In a happier time, no one would think that the most important things which a nation could display to an important visitor were its warships and its fighting men. Instead, the natural impulse would be to exhibit those things which showed how well the country's people were getting along; the rich farmlands, the thriving business houses, the great factories, the universities and the scientific laboratories and the treasure houses of art and literature. A country rich in such things would be a proud country; a country which lacked them would feel the lack keenly, knowing that its citizens were not getting as much of a break as they ought to be getting.

For the objects of national striving are after all, fairly simple. A governmental exists to ensure its people a decent chance at "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness"; it is the instrument through which they live together as a social and economic unit, and its one excuse for existence is that it enables them to live in peace and security while they try, each man according to his talents, to win a little happiness.

But in a world which lives under the shadow of war, that ceases to be true. The well-being of the ordinary man is forgotten, then; whether he is getting a fair break in his pursuit of happiness ceases to be important. All that matters is that nothing be overlooked in the preparation for war. And the ordinary man (who pays the bills for the whole business) becomes a person who is used by his government rather than the person for whose sake the government exists.

That is the kind of world Europe is today. That is why Admiral Horthy looked at ships and guns and planes, on his visit to Germany. Those are the attributes by which modern European nations are judged. And as long as those things are the most important things in Europe, the lot of the ordinary European will continue to be unhappy.

ONE-PIECE SOUND AND FURY

A number of things could be done to tidy up the American political campaign, such as abolishing 85 per cent of the candidates, but one of the simplest steps—streamlining the general shape—has already been taken in one quarter and deserves to be emulated elsewhere.

South Carolina did a little streamlining as far back as 1892. A law was passed requiring all candidates for governor and senator to do their campaigning together, from the same platforms at the same times.

The advantages of such a scheme are apparent at once. Naturally it makes the campaign hotter and gives it more form, but there are other advantages.

It enables the people, for instance, to take it from both camps at once, in one dose, which is considerably milder punishment than having the torture dragged out over a long period. And when one candidate undertakes to demolish the argument of another, it's easier for the people to remember whether the other one actually made that argument in the first place.

Probably the greatest advantage, however, is the opportunity the set-up gives both candidates to win a few votes. The opposition's support has to sit there listening. As it is, the candidates in other states spend most of their time making impassioned pleas to people who came to listen because they'd already made up their minds the candidate was worth listening to.

COLLECTOR, I LOVE YOU!

Miss Carole Lombard, one of the fancier decorations on the celluloid coast, is breath-taking in more ways than one.

For instance, when she delivers herself of a few sentiments on taxes, as she did recently she reduces the breath supply to the point of turning the face blue. The rule among the country's subjects for taxation is that generally the more foldin' money the subject has to give, the louder the sobbing grows. But not so with Miss Lombard, who was 1937's highest paid moving picture star.

The government took something over 85 per cent of her $465,000 income, and Miss Lombard announced that she thought that was just dandy. "I'm pretty happy about the whole thing," she declared. "... I have no kicks at all... I think that's fine...."

She went on to observe that the government spent most of it "for me, on general improvements on the country, and I really think I got my money's worth," and what with one observation and another she practically made George Washington, Nathan Hale and Barbara Frietsche look like patriots of a rather sorry order.

There are probably some who feel that the fact that Miss Lombard recently took a two-week flyer at working as a press agent may have had something or other to do with the matter, but they're just a bunch of old meanies.

The United States properly cannot be called a Christian nation, since it is so far from being controlled by Christian principles.—Dr. W. L. Darby, head of the Washington, D. C., Church Federation.

WASHINGTON—There is a big shock in store for Democratic politicians in all the Purple States. They have been impatiently looking forward to the completion of the primaries in September as the end of the White House's purging operations. Once the primaries were out of the way the boys figured all would be forgiven and forgotten and they would be welcomed back as good Democrats once more.

Well, they are mistaken. The finish of the primaries will not finish the purge. It will be the start of a new and much tougher one. From then on the President intends to move in on the patronage office-holders who, as one White House intimate expresses it, have been "biting the hand that feeds them."

In other words, the henchmen of anti-New Deal Democratic Senators and Congressmen are slated for the axe. Regardless of whether such men as Senators George of Georgia, Tydings of Maryland, and McCarran of Nevada win or lose in their primaries, the state machines they have built up through patronage obtained from the White House are going to be smashed by the White House.

Hereafter the test of an appointee to a key federal local job will not be who is sponsoring him but whether the appointee is a dependable White House supporter. And the test isn't only going to apply to the anti-Administrationites up for election this year. It will apply to Vice President Jack Garner, Senator Burt Wheeler, Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, Senator Pat Harrison, Senator Josiah Bailey of North Carolina, and other anti-New Deal chieftains.

1940

Behind the new White House strategy, of course, is 1940.

For a long time Roosevelt's liberal advisers have been telling him that it was hopeless to attempt to unseat anti-Administrationites on Capitol Hill if he persisted in arming them with patronage ammunition in their home bailiwicks.

Opposition of federal appointees to various New Deal candidates, plus reports from all over the country that anti-Administration Democrats are using patronage to build up machines to oppose Roosevelt's control of the 1940 convention, finally convinced him that the purge should continue.

He told Jim Farley of his intention at the day-long conference between them at Hyde Park. Big Jim's reply was, "Whatever you say. You're the boss."

Tugwell Marriage. Despite her denials, Tanis Tugwell, 21-year-old daughter of Professor Rex Tugwell, did take out a license to marry the son of a Tennessee ex-miner. And there is still a possibility that the marriage will go through.

Tanis has a job with the Farm Security Administration, which, when Tugwell ran it, was called Resettlement Administration. She got her job, at a salary of $1080, shortly after her father left Washington late in 1936.

FSA sent her to the Cumberland Mountains to help coach the homesteaders at Crossville in a historical pageant. One of the things she did was to make records of mountain folk-songs.

At Crossville, Tanis met young Lon Watley, aged 22, son of a homesteader who had been a coal miner. Lon was a lively youth, and a leader among the young people. He had had a short stretch of college training at work-your-way Berea College in Kentucky.

The fact that he had no job and no prospects didn't worry Tanis. She fell in love with him, and they planned marriage.

This was reported to Papa Tugwell by Margaret Valiant, Tanis' boss in the pageant project. Tugwell's reply was significant. He said: "You can't spank a 21-year-old child."

But he became more concerned when he heard they actually had taken out a marriage license. He wired her to return at once to Washington. This and another wire from Rex Tugwell's mother on Lake Ontario, brought Tanis back in the company of disapproving Miss Valiant.

In Washington, Tanis stayed away from the office for three days and stoutly denied that she planned marriage. She insisted that there must be another girl named Tanis Tugwell in the little town of Crossville, Tennessee. But she is the intended bride.

NOTE—At the moment Miss Tugwell's parents are going through a divorce action.

Unofficial Cabinet Member Only White House intimates know it, but since last June, Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins has been a regular attendant at every Cabinet meeting. He participates in the deliberations on the same footing as Vice President Jack Garner—at the personal invitation of the President.

There are two significant

things about Hopkins' unofficial Cabinet status:

One, Roosevelt elevated him to this role immediately following the defeat in the House of the government reorganization bill, which would have created a Department of Public Welfare. Hopkins was destined to be named to the new Cabinet post had the measure been passed.

Two, the strong and close bonds between the President and Hopkins have increased. Today, there is no one in the New Deal as near Roosevelt as Hopkins, or whose views the President seeks more frequently or regards more highly.

Iconoclast

Nazi Germany's gobbling up of Austria has made an iconoclast of Chairman Hutton Summers of the House Judiciary Committee. The veteran Texan was in one of the Capitol's stationery stores when he overheard a young woman ask a clerk to order a geographical globe for her. Bowing politely, Summers interposed.

"Miss, if you will permit me, I wouldn't buy that globe just yet. I'd wait until those European countries get themselves straightened out. I ordered one of those globes a few months ago, and you know, before it was delivered it was out of date."

There are no domesticated bees. Those living in man-made hives are as wild as those inhabiting hollow trees in the jungles.

Sixteen horses are required to pull apart the two halves of a hollow sphere about one foot in diameter, which has been tightly sealed and pumped free of air.

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should a man stand back and let all the women board a bus before entering himself?

2. Do good manners necessitate a man's giving his seat on a street car or bus to a woman who is standing?

3. Should a young woman give her seat to an elderly woman if no man offers her a seat?

4. If one hasn't his exact fare ready, should he stand back and be one of the last to enter a bus?

5. Is it good manners to spread packages on a seat, when people are standing?

What would you do if—
You are sitting on the outside of a bus or street car seat, and another passenger stops to sit down—
(a) Slide over next to the window, and let him sit on the aisle?
(b) Let him crawl over you?
(c) Swing around sideways with your feet in the aisle until he gets by?

She wanted to go back to her Blue Grass; to hear the thud of pounding hoofs on the home stretch.

CHAPTER I
"YOU may think I'm crazy," the girl was pleading to be understood, "but I'm not sure I want to take your offer."

The publisher's eyes narrowed. He said suavely, "Perhaps there's something else you want. Surely it isn't more money?"

"No," Linda Gordon shook her head. "And I do want to be staff writer on your magazine; it's a lifetime chance. But—"

The big man across the desk leaned forward. "But what?"

"It's hard to put in words," she broke off, glanced out the opened window, across the roofs of Manhattan. Her gaze focused on something far above the skyline: an air dragon, emitting streamers of smoke—vapor which formed the name of a cigarette; also the name of a great horse which had won the Derby and the Belmont Stakes.

She wanted to go home! She was fed up with the fight and rush and loneliness of the city. She wanted to go back where people were neighborly—wanted to return to her Blue Grass; to hear the neigh of stallions; to see lovely brood mares walking with their foals. Wanted to—

The publisher rose slowly, but thought quickly. "Our offer is open until 6 o'clock, Miss Gordon. We are putting the book to bed tonight; I'll be here until then. If you haven't decided—he left the sentence unfinished; dismissed her with a curt nod. His manner implied she'd have to take it or leave it by that hour.

BACK in her little apartment on West 11th street, where for months she had dreamed of this chance, she upbraided herself harshly. "You fool!" she spoke.

At half-past 5 a special delivery letter was handed to her; a letter from old Uncle Sandy, who had been father and mother to her.

Twice she read his blurred script. Then slowly crumpled the paper in her hands. For a moment she sat still. Then fierce hatred burst inside her—hatred against circumstances; for that letter virtually called her home. Uncle Sandy was sick and in money trouble. He had no one else in the world to appeal to; she'd have to go to him—if there was a spark of decency in her.

And she didn't want to go to all. That indecision—that homesick longing—it was just a moment's whim. She wanted to stay here, to lick New York!

But she had to go. It would be a harsh return; not to a pillared mansion, but to a small frame house on a by-road: where an old, sick man was reliving in memory his great moments on the turf.

She was pacing the floor, clenching and unclenching her hands, when the bell rang.

SHE threw the door back. A tall and broad-shouldered cyclone, topped by early-gray hair, burst in, shouting:

"Did you hear it over the radio?"

"Oh, hello!"—she was confused for a split second. "Hear what?"

"Say! Have you forgotten about Merry Maid?"

"Oh, yes, Merry Maid. Sit down, Monte." She slumped into a chair, but Monte Hill remained standing, looking down at her with concern.

"Have you forgotten? Merry Maid running in the Juvenile Stakes at Belmont today?"

"Oh, yes, I guess she won?"

"And how! Tow-roped the field from the start; came within a second of the track record! But look here—what's happened?"

He reached down, took her hands, pulled her to her feet. "What's hurting you—tell a fellow?"

She pulled her hands loose, shook her head. "It's nothing, Monte." Her eyes strayed to the clock. Eight minutes to 6. "Wait—till I phone. Then I'll tell you."

She dialed a number, called over the transmitter, "I'm turning down Moss' offer."

"What?" He wheeled around, boyish surprise showing on his wind-swept face. "That's great! Now we'll marry—I'll take you away from this grind—I've got the money—Merry Maid won $6500 for us today. We'll—"

He stopped at a signal from her. Turned to a window looking out into a treeless back yard, as she spoke into the transmitter:

"... wonderful of you to offer me the chance, but I can't accept. Mr. Moss... Oh, no, no! Not at all!" Monte Hill frowned, turned around. Sudden warmth was flooding her tones. Why so cordial to the old coddler?

"... matters at home... at least a year, I'm afraid... thank you! That's wonderful..."

At last she forked the instrument. The man strode to her. "What's this about going home? I thought you were turning his job down to marry me."

SHE smiled ironically at him. He was like a hurt child, his vanity pricked. He tugged at his too-well-cut tweed coat: the kind a suddenly successful turfman would wear. Suspicion came into his voice. "You going home to marry that bum, Bruce Radford?"

She threw her head back—laughed shrilly.

"What's funny? He's a bum, I tell you! Had the makings of a good newspaper man in him—then inherits a flock of dollars from an uncle—sets up as a country gentleman! Shucks! He's a—"

"Yes, a bum," she repeated the words for him, her face sobering. "Don't be jealous, Monte. I'm afraid I don't love you; and Bruce Radford certainly would be the last man I'd marry, after what he did to Uncle Sandy."

"To Uncle Sandy?"

"Remember the bachelor uncle who reared me?"

"Oh, sure! When I was a youngster I saw him on the tracks. He was a big shot; had a great stable—"

"A big shot—then, she corrected. "But now—old and broke, Monte. I've just had a letter. The Radford estate has forced him to pay something he should never have been called on for. Honorable old boy—he paid up. Now, he's sick, and hasn't a thin dime. He doesn't ask it, but I'm going home to him."

"Say! We'll marry, send him money—"

"No!" she was positive. "Besides, it's the human touch he needs—and someone to fend for him against those Radfords."

"But you will marry me?"

"No, Monte, no!" She shook her head slowly. "Forget all that, won't you? You've been a swell friend. Let it stand that way."

The man's face showed bitter disappointment. He tugged at his coat again, asked: "But what are you going to do down there? What are you going to live on?"

"Oh!" Hands clasped under her chin an instant. She hadn't figured that out. Then an impish thought came, and her eyes sparkled. She smiled up at him: "Monte, there aren't any ravens in the Blue Grass. I guess I'll scratch dirt—and like it."

PITCHES HITLESS GAME FOR ALMOST 14 INNINGS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—(P)—Dick Ward of the San Diego Padres pitched 13½ hitless innings but missed no-hit baseball glory because it took his teammates 16 innings to score themselves.

Ward bested Ray Prim of Los Angeles, Pacific Coast league leader, 1 to 0 yesterday. He yielded only two hits—both singles in the 14th—and issued the first of four walks in the ninth.

REDSKINS WITH BAUGH TO MEET THE COLLEGIAN

Whizzer White With All-Stars For Game At Chicago

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Starting lineups of the Washington Redskins-Collegiate All-Stars football game at Soldier Field tonight:

Redskins: LE Schwartz (California); LT Shirley (Nebraska); LG Routt (Texas Aggies); C Wolf (Ohio State); RG Minsky (Alabama); RT Markov (Washington); E E Sweeney (Nte. Dame); QB Pupile (Notre Dame); Baugh LH Isbell (Purdue); Pinckert RH Gram (Minnesota); Krause FB Patrick (Pittsburgh); Starting time 7:30 p. m. (EST).

Weather—Partly cloudy, warmer. Radio—Mutual and NBC networks. Officials—Referee: Tommy Hughitt (Michigan, pro); Field Judge, Larry Conover (Penn State, pro.); Headlinesman, Fred Garner, (Cornell, collegiate); Umpire, E. C. Krieger, (Ohio University, collegiate).

Baugh With Redskins CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Tonight's the night Sammy Adrain Baugh, football's most publicized passer, returns to Soldier Field seeking to restore to professional ranks the supremacy he stole from them last year with one heave of his right arm.

At that time a crowd of approximately 80,000 saw the Texan pitch the college All-Stars to a 6 to 0 triumph over the professional champion Green Bay Packers.

Tonight another crowd of 80,000 may see another demonstration by the redoubtable Baugh, now star of the Washington Redskins, and Colorado's famed Whizzer White.

The contest will be the rubber game of a series which began four year ago. Each side has won a game. Two tilts ended in ties.

Against Baugh, the field generalship of Quarterback Riley Smith and the heavier, more experienced and favored pro eleven, the collegians will pit passers, White, Cecil Isbell of Purdue and a supporting cast of ball carriers, kickers and linemen selected by popular vote from all over the nation.

DIES DISTURBED OVER REJECTION OF HIS DEMAND

Takes View Deportation For Bridges "Practically Dropped"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) of the house committee on un-American activities said today Secretary Perkins had taken the "astonishing action" of "practically dropping" deportation proceedings against Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader.

Dies, en route to Texas, telephoned his statement here after the committee received from the secretary of labor a blunt rejection of its demand that Bridges be deported because he was a Communist.

"It is laughable for a member of an executive department, especially Miss Perkins, to complain that a congressman was trying to usurp the functions of a government department," Dies said. "All that I am asking as a member of congress is that she enforce the law in the Bridges case, which she has not done to this date."

"I do not know what factors she alludes to in her statement, unless they are political, because the department file does not reveal even a plausible excuse for the astonishing action of the secretary in practically dropping the Bridges case. If she waits until the supreme court acts upon the Strecker case, as announced, the witnesses will all be gone and there will be no use to proceed."

Allege Attempt to Usurp

Termining the demand an attempt to usurp the duties of an executive department, Miss Perkins wrote Dies:

"The fact that Communists are unpopular, and I agree in this, does not justify us in placing within that category every other unpopular person, nor in deporting them without a scrupulous regard for the due process of law, the clear and certain ruling of the courts and the facts in the case."

"Perhaps it was fortunate that Shirley Temple was born an American citizen and that we will not have to debate the issue raised by the preposterous revelations of your committee in regard to this innocent and likeable child."

(A witness had told the committee that Shirley Temple and other film stars were being used as dupes for Communist propaganda.)

GUNMEN SLAIN ESCAPED CONVICTS

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Federal agents, state police and county detectives traced back today the crime trail of two Texas convicts shot to death by deputy sheriffs here just over five weeks after they escaped from a state prison farm in an officers' automobile.

The men were identified tentatively as John Bowman and Tilgham Van Acker, trustees who fled from Wynn State prison farm at Huntsville, Tex., last July 24 in the car of Capt. R. H. Baughn.

Three deputy sheriffs shot them at dawn here yesterday. The gunmen opened fire with pistols as the deputies drew up to their taxicab.

Their identities were learned through fingerprint classifications telegraphed to the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington, D. C.

Two persons identified them as holdup men.

Thomas Coady of Kokomo, who works in his father's grocery, said they were the gunmen who took $70 from him Monday.

Irwin Rosenbaum, owner of a clothing store at South Bend, said they had held him up several days ago.

Bowman, alias Jess Williams, at the time of his escape was serving 99 years for robbery and theft. He was sentenced from Gregg county, Texas, in 1934.

Van Acker was serving 35 years for robbery and theft from Tarrant and Harris counties. His sentence was imposed in 1935.

He had served in the New Mexico and Fort Leavenworth, Kas., federal penitentiaries.

Scene For Movie Bank Robbery

This bank, located on the square at Pineville, Mo., soon will be the scene for a robbery to be staged in filming the life of Jess E. James, Missouri outlaw.

NAMES GUARD IN ORDER FOR HEAT

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Superintendent William B. Mills today named Guard Sergeant James Hart as the man "responsible" for turning on the heat that blasted the lives of four convicts in punishment cells at the Philadelphia county prison.

Mills, testifying at a coroner's inquest in the deaths said Hart gave an "unauthorized" order to an assistant engineer to turn the steam into a battery of radiators in the prison "Klondike"—a box-like isolation building where 25 hunger-striking convicts were confined.

"There should have been no heat turned in the building in August weather," the superintendent said.

He said Hart did not have the authority, or his permission to have the heat turned on.

A jury of six business men and clauwen was asked to fix blame for what Coroner Charles H. Hersch termed the "torture murders."

Hersch said the inquest would culminate in "most drastic action" against those guilty.

PERSONALS

Miss Erlene Huckins left today for St. Louis to spend a few days visiting relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cain and son, "Bob" of 1214 South Carr avenue, have returned from a ten days' fishing trip to Minnesota.

Mrs. Elsie Dodson and daughter, Irene, left this morning for Columbia to attend the S. D. A. convention. They will return September 5.

'DIXIE' DAVIS IN TESTIMONY OF HINES BEING PAID

Asserts Accused In Conspiracy Case Given Money As "Fixer"

By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, 32-year-old "kid mouthpiece" of the Dutch Schultz policy racket, testified today in the conspiracy trial of Tammany district Leader James J. Hines that he paid Hines approximately $40,000 as political "fixer" for the mob between October, 1932, and July, 1935.

Davis by his testimony "put the finger" directly on the Democratic political leader. He swore he paid Hines at least ten times a year himself. The prosecution considers Davis its most important witness, even including John F. Curry, former Tammany boss, who told of the power Tammany had over police assignments.

George Weinburg, former business manager of the Schultz combine, has previously testified he also gave Hines his "take" as "front" for the racket.

Sums "Up To $1,000 a Time"
From October, 1932, to the end of 1933, Davis said, he paid Hines out of racket money "about 15 or 20 times" at a rate of between $500 and $1,000 each time.

"Mostly Hines asked for the money," Davis said, "and I had orders from the Dutchman to give him whatever he asked for, within a reasonable limit. I understood the limit was fixed at $1,000 a time."

Sometimes the payments ran $750 to $1,000.

"Did he ever call you for money?" District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey asked.

"Yes, I had Leo Rosenthal (a Hines political aide who was placed on the Schultz payroll at $50 a week) as my messenger and he took the money to Hines many times."

"Anyone else?"
"Yes, Johnny Math—I believe he was Hines' secretary. Math would come to me and say his boss needed money."

"Where did you meet Math?"
"At Hines' home and at Shallock's office," Davis said, referring to Joseph Shallock, one of Hines' lawyers in the present trial.

In the pre-election months of October and November, 1933, when William Copeland Dodge, Hines' candidate, was nominated for district attorney, Davis indicated the sums passed to Hines were far in excess of normal payments of "numbers money."

Davis said he also instructed his sister, Rose, to give Hines money. It was a check for $500, he said.

Davis said that after the Schultz syndicate got to operating full blast, he (Davis) was making "about $750 or $1,000 a week," receiving $50 for each policy arrest case he handled for the mob.

TYDINGS PLEASED OVER VICTORY

By The Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, Aug. 31.—Senator Millard E. Tydings said today he was "greatly pleased" that his colleague, Senator Smith of South Carolina, also opposed by President Roosevelt, had won re-nomination in the Democratic primary.

"I am greatly pleased to know that Senator Smith has won in South Carolina," said Tydings in a formal statement. "He is a real Democrat."

"South Carolina is the rock-ribbed Democratic Gibraltar of America and its vote of confidence in Senator Smith is in line with its traditional heritage."

"The country has a splendid senator in Smith, one who has the interests of his people at heart, and who will always be a credit to his state and the nation."

LOST ABOUT $100,000 WORTH OF JEWELRY

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Three bandits held up the Fifth Avenue jewelry store of Rimpler and Horning, Inc., today, escaping with loot estimated tentatively by police at $100,000.

The gunmen spent 25 minutes in the store, then got away through streets packed with lunch hour traffic.

SEDALIA TEAM DEFEATS MARSHALL

The Sedalia tennis team took their second inter-city match on Tuesday night when they defeated Marshall 4 to 2 on the loser's courts.

Roll McNeal won his singles match downing Walley Wainfield 6-1, 7-5 while Al Moore gave up only four games to defeat D. Ballard of Marshall 6-2, 6-2. D. M. Johnson and a doubles team composed of Al Moore and R. McNeal, all of Sedalia furnished the other victories.

Marshall's two scores came in a singles and doubles duel when H. H. Holdsworth was blasted off the court 1-6, 1-6 by R. Knuckles of Marshall and R. Warbritton teaming with A. Johnson sank 1-6, 3-6, under an attack by A. Alby and W. Wainfield.

ROSENTHALS WIN WITH SHUTOUT

The Rosenthal Clothiers in a softball game with the Marshall All-Stars, took the large end of the score and shut the Marshall team out, Tuesday night at Marshall. Score Clothiers 8; All-Stars 0.

"King Pin" Hyatt on the mound for the Clothiers let the All-Stars down with two lone hits, and plenty of good support was displayed by the Sedalia aggregation.

Hightower was in usual form on the mound, but the unusual hitting of the Clothiers made it difficult for Hightower to hold the Sedalians from safeties inasmuch as the support accorded him was not as brilliant as that given Hyatt.

The Clothiers play tonight on the local park diamond with the Hawley Maulers.

IMPOUND GUNS OF TOM MIX ABROAD

PLYMOUTH, England, Aug. 31.—(AP)—British customs officers took eight six-shooters and five rifles away from Tom Mix today when the American cowboy movie star arrived on the liner Paris for a vaudeville tour.

The weapons were impounded until Mix gets a license to import them or leaves the country.

The confiscation somewhat spoiled the triumphal entry of Mix, who wearing a cream-colored cowboy suit, led his horse Tony II ashore in person.

The whistles of the liner and its tender were muted at the American's request "so Tony won't be scared."

WARNS OF GETTING "JITTERY" IN WAR SCARES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Roper advised American business men today not to get "jittery" about the European war scare.

He reiterated the belief, based on his recent visit to England, that there would be no general war and said "it is better to think less of the jittery effects of war."

PERSONAL ESTATE MELLON $35,000,000

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Andrew W. Mellon left a personal estate of approximately $35,000,000, an appraisal filed with Allegheny county register of wills disclosed today.

The appraisal did not include real estate possessed by the former secretary of the treasury at his death in August, 1937. Some attorneys estimated the real estate at $2,000,000.

Executors of the Mellon estate said the financier gave the A. W. Mellon educational and charitable trust more than $35,000,000 in securities and cash and an art collection valued at $50,000,000. Under the Mellon will the entire estate goes to the trust, with the exception of $180,000 willed to domestic and office employees.

Mellon also made large bequests to public projects in Pittsburgh. The trust is constructing the $15,000,000 national gallery of art in Washington as a gift to the nation. The gallery will house Mellon's art collection. The trust also will provide an endowment of $5,000,000 to be additional works of art.

CRANIUM CRACKERS

Mr. Hill and Mr. Dale were looking over some vacant land they had purchased. Standing talking together, face to face, each then turned and walked away from the other for 50 feet.

Then, turning to the right, Mr. Hill walked 200 feet straight ahead, then turned to the right again and walked 50 feet straight ahead.

In the meantime, Mr. Dale, after walking the first 50 feet, turned to the left and walked 100 feet ahead, then turned to the left again and walked 50 feet ahead, then turned to the right and walked 100 feet ahead.

If all corners turned were exact right angles, where were the men now in relation to each other, and what was the shape of their property?

Nature of Parental Contribution To Child Not Definitely Known

No two of us are constructed exactly alike. The way in which we are constructed is a reflection of the constitution which we inherit from all of our ancestors.

The special branch of science which is concerned with the origins of man, the kind of material from which he is constructed, and the effects of such materials on his life, is known as the science of genetics.

The human being represents a certain contribution from each of his parents. As far as we know, the nature of each parent's contribution is not definitely established by any law of science. It seems rather to depend almost wholly upon chance.

Each of the parents may contribute certain materials. Yet upon these very materials depend not only the individual's health but also his character, his personality, the power which he will develop later in life—indeed his entire future.

It has been discovered that the number of chromosomes from the female is different from that coming from the male. In the female the number of chromosomes is even. In the male the number of chromosomes is odd. This difference of one chromosome is said to be responsible for determining many of the differences that distinguish male and female.

The early embryo contains in a mass of tissue two nuclei, each with a set of chromosomes. One of these is from the mother; the other from the father. The mass grows by dividing into two parts. These, in turn, divide into four, and so on into eight, 16, until a large number of cells are formed.

At first the two sexes seem to develop exactly alike, but gradually there begin to be differences depending upon the number of

Died at the Stake For His Beliefs

HARDLY had zealous young John Huss, born of humble Bavarian parents, begun to lecture at the University of Prague when he developed an interest in the philosophical and theological writings of the reformer Wycliffe. Very soon he had translated much of Wycliffe into Czech.

Then, in 1409, Huss published a treatise in which he declaimed against forged miracles and ecclesiastical greed, and urged Christians to seek Christ in His enduring word rather than to look for sensible signs of His presence. Not long after, he was excommunicated. But he continued preaching, and in 1411 a new ban was issued and the whole city where he lived was laid under interdict. But still "this pale, thin man in mean attire" preached. Finally he went into seclusion.

But by now the flames of the clergy's opposition had burned too high. Huss was called out of seclusion, was charged with a long list of heresies, one of which denied that Peter was head of the church. A council ruled that Huss should recant publicly, but he refused and the sentence of death was pronounced. Huss went into prayer thereafter until the execution fire was finally touched off and his voice stifled at last in the smoke. When the flames had stilled his words forever, the ashes and even the soil on which they lay were carefully removed and thrown into the Rhine. But at 46 Huss had handed to Luther the torch which eventually kindled the Reformation. Huss is shown here on a 1920 stamp of Czechoslovakia.

RAISING A FAMILY

"DULL" PUPIL MAY BE JUST FRIGHTENED

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Often a child is not dull at all, but gets a sort of frozen terror that creates the impression of stupidity.

We are all this way, old and young. If you're in a room where people think you are up-to-date and smart, you ARE smart. You pick right up and say things that surprise you. But with a lot of people who think you're a back-number, you are apt to discover yourself saying insane things that you could kick yourself for afterwards. You knew better, but you couldn't help it.

Now it sometimes happens that at the beginning of the school year, when everything is new and strange, a boy or girl will set up a fear wall against the work ahead. They are sure they won't be able to do it well, and consequently are not at their best.

We'll take a hypothetical case of James Jones who has heard that B6 is very, very hard. James is handicapped before he begins.

Discouraged at Beginning
James is a plodder. He gets things slowly, but when once learned, they're there to stay forever. He is a little slow on the pickup while the rest of the room seems to be using a sort of magic about their lessons. The class has the reputation of being far above average, and Miss Black hasn't anticipated any slow-pokes. James' marks for last term were pretty good, but now she is astonished at his passing into her room at all. She simply cannot help looking at the boy with a half frown. Without really speaking a word, she clearly puts poor James in a class by himself. He senses it and freezes, just as you and I would freeze in a roomful of celebrities.

At home his mother and father get completely discouraged. They notice that the boy is in a sort of blue funk. He repeats that he's dumb. He says, "I can't think when I'm in school any more. I'm all mixed up."

His father tells him that he doesn't pay attention. Advises him to listen better and get hold of himself. Maybe, he says, "You're getting lazy, boy. Why don't you sharpen your wits and go to it? I'd be ashamed if you got behind."

Between misunderstandings at home, the quick tempo of the class, as well as a certain impatience on his teacher's part, the boy is losing faith in himself. There is no stimulus to brains like praise. This is what he needs—praise and encouragement. Once he thinks he's pretty good, he'll be a lot smarter.

Octopuses are very popular in many countries as food, and sometimes are sold as canned lobster.

At first bananas hang down on the trees, but upon growing heavier the bunch turns down and the bananas hang upward.

FRACTIONAL GAIN TO GRAIN MARKET

By The Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—After dropping more than a cent, wheat prices rallied strongly in the last 15 minutes of trading today and closed with net fractional gains.
Heavy short covering appeared in the pit at the last. This was attributed partly to announcement that the government had paid as high as 80 1/2 cents for wheat in its export subsidy program. This is almost 18

CONVENTION OF M. F. A., HERE TO AN END TUESDAY

reflected in the work they had on exhibit, and in their programs at the convention.

The following were elected officers: President, Glenn Rouch, Christian county, vice-president, Wilfred Breyer, Franklin county; Secretary, Rebecca Willis, Stone county.

Afternoon Speaker
Edward E. Kennedy, president of the National Agricultural Conference and Legislative Representative of the National Farmers' Union, Washington, D. C. spoke Tuesday afternoon. His topic was prosperity through agriculture, and he stated that we have always been taught to think, believe, and have said if a nation is to be prosperous, agriculture must be prosperous. Every time we have a rise in agricultural prices, he said, there is, within three to seven months, a corresponding rise in labor wages, retail sales, and general prices, while every time there is a fall in the cash income of the farmer, there follows a corresponding decline all along. That, he said, is the economic law under which we live, but there are some who try to explode that theory.

He assailed the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, and stated that more and more is the cost of government falling on those who are unable to pay.

M. F. A. Resolutions.

Again our Association has shown growth during the last fiscal year, but this growth merely skims the surface of what would be true if our local leaders and members were more aggressive in acquainting their neighbors with what the M. F. A. has accomplished, and the things it stands for. When an organization owns and operates hundreds of marketing agencies that do business for the farmer at cost, and pay to him any resulting profits at the year's end, it would seem that all farmers would desire to belong to such an organization, and if in many communities there are many worthy farmers who do not, the fault lies not with these farmers, but with a local leadership that has not made the most of its opportunities. Just as a stream cannot rise above its source, so a farm organization cannot rise above the ideals of its leaders and members, and therefore we need as never before to "carry the message to Garcia" in these premises.

The time was some years ago when the M. F. A. was a tremendous power in the enactment of helpful legislation in this State, and thus the laws which we have sponsored have saved our taxpayers millions of dollars. But during the recent depression years our power in this respect has become greatly weakened, and therefore it is not surprising that during recent Legislatures we failed to procure the enactment of a farm mortgage moratorium bill that would have saved thousands of farms from foreclosure. To this end we urge the rebuilding of our County Associations with a board of directors comprised of a leading farmer from each township, not only should such a board greatly increase the membership, and correspondingly increase the volume of business in our marketing agencies, but when an important bill is pending in the Legislature, 60 or 70 County Associations with boards of the above character should exercise little difficulty in obtaining whatever action is desired by the County Representatives and State Senators who represent such committee. We should endeavor to make the M. F. A. a greater power for good government in Missouri, and especially for laws that will save money to our taxpayers in these tax-ridden times.

Appeal For Economy.

The M. F. A. is a non-partisan organization, but we congratulate Governor Stark for his courage stand for decent government, and an honest ballot in this state, for these things are desired by all good citizens, irrespective of party. We hereby appeal to the Governor not only to continue this struggle, but to demand that the coming legislature shall practice the most rigid economy in the conduct of our state government, and we hereby suggest the defeat of all legislative candidates, irrespective of party, who will not openly pledge themselves to this program before the November election.

One of the most unsatisfactory situations in our Association is the haphazard way in which we support our cooperative livestock marketing agencies at the National Stock Yards at Kansas City and South St. Joseph. The time was some years ago when our consignments to these companies were so great that they materially stabilized the price of livestock in the farmer's interest, and therefore we recommend that a plan be developed without delay that will result in marketing as nearly 100% of the livestock of our members from each county through the above agencies as possible. In its time the Farmers Livestock Commission Company has returned approximately one million dollars to our members and affiliated members, and the earnings of the Farmers Union Livestock Commission Company at South St. Joseph have likewise been generous. When the selling ability of these cooperatives is second to none, and when by giving them 100% support we can favorably influence prices, and at the same time enable them to earn substantial patronage dividends, why should not our local leaders in each county take this matter in hand without delay? To that end we suggest that all managers and directors of our local agencies investigate without delay the possibility of shipping the livestock from their respective territories by rail or by truck, depending upon the service required to get this volume through our own channels.

For Defeat On "Gas" Tax Hike

A Constitutional amendment will be submitted to our voters in the coming November election to increase the state gasoline tax 1c per gallon for the next ten years, and for the following reasons we believe this amendment should be emphatically defeated: First, because the proposed imposition of the increased revenue is so completely set out in the above amendment that during the next 10 years the Legislature of this State will have no voice in road matters, and in our opinion the people will be unwise to grant such far-reaching and autocratic power to the State Highway Commission. Supposedly Legislatures exist in order that the people may have something to say through these forums as to how their money shall be spent, and what kind of laws they desire, and therefore why should we tie the hands of the people in this respect by placing far-reaching legislative power into the hands of boards through the State Constitution, which power makes boards a law unto themselves. In past elections we have adopted amendments of this kind which have enabled the Highway Commission to snap its fingers at the will of the Legislature, and we submit that the time has come to cease doing this. Supposedly the Legislature is the voice of the people, and if it does not express their will they have the power to hold its members to account in the ensuing election, but once blanket authority is written into the Constitution the people are powerless, and therefore for this reason alone in our opinion the above amendment shall be overwhelmingly defeated.

Again, we think this amendment should be defeated because it purports to set aside only 5% of the increased gasoline revenue for farm roads. There are at this time approximately 100,000 miles of common dirt roads in Missouri that have received no benefit from our vast road-building program, and it is over these roads that many thousands of farmers must do their marketing all seasons of the year, and over which their children must walk back and forth to school; and when the sponsors of this amendment promise to improve 5,000 miles of the above roads during the next 10 years, this means if the promise is kept, that only 500 miles will be benefitted per year, and this in a state that has 250,000 farm families, and 100,000 miles of dirt roads that are impassable during most of the winter months. There are other reasons why we think this amendment should be defeated, but in our opinion the ones cited above are sufficient.

With the prices of wheat the lowest (except in 1932 and 1933) in 300 years, and with the corn price only half of what it was last year, we submit that the so-called administration farm policies are in a state of collapse, and that the time is here when shots in the arm out of Federal Treasury and other palliatives should be cast aside, and when we should formulate a new farm plan based upon the principle of the McNary-Haugen Bill which sought to assure farmers a fair price on those of their commodities

that are consumed in our home markets, and which will so segregate farm surpluses that they may be sold in the World markets for what they will bring. Under the administration policies agriculture is being deliberately "Nationalized" and a swarm of federal employees increasingly tell farmers what they shall or shall not do, and we submit that this dictation is repugnant to our American institutions. That in order to segregate surpluses farmers must be winning to submit to a degree of control we freely concede, but we demand that a plan be developed by which farmers can administer this control themselves. Under existing conditions not only is agriculture sinking lower and lower in the economic structure of the Nation, but not until farm purchasing power is equitably restored is there any possibility of getting our idle millions back to work. The Nation has always been prosperous when the farmer had normal buying power, and we have always had depressions when he did not have. In our opinion, the Administration has had sufficient time to try out its ideas and those of the intellectual associates, and since these ideas are in a state of collapse, we suggest that the practical farm leaders and farmers of the country be consulted in time to come.

We are in sympathy with the labor organizations of the United States in their demand for an American standard of living, but we submit that until an American living standard is established for the farmer he should not be compelled to pay the union wage scale.

We commend the ladies of the W. P. F. A. and the boys and girls of the J. F. A. for the fine work they are doing and which is an ever increasing inspiration to our Association.
